

MEDIA/TV

Sometimes television stations do reports in our schools or we broadcast student performances via video streaming or other forms of media. The district can control media in our buildings for special reports, but do not control the videoing or broadcasting of events open to the public. Parents may choose to give or deny permission for their children to appear in television reports. This applies to video media.