

INSTRUCTIONAL TELEVISION

The Board recognizes that instructional television can provide educational experiences and cultural involvement for students and adults alike. Therefore, the Board endorses the use of instructional television as an integral part of the school curriculum.

When using instructional television in addition to general curriculum materials, a teacher should keep in mind that the program should be suitable to the maturity level of the students, and that the subject matter should be related to the curriculum.

Before recommending the viewing of a program, the teacher should ascertain that the format and content of the program is suitable for students.
